

CONTENTS

Foreword	7
Introduction	9
Chapter I.
THE DEVELOPMENT OF SPECIFIC ABILITIES	16
I.1. Play	21
I.1.1. Play in childhood	22
I.1.2. Play in culture	25
I.1.3. The principle of play in theatrical art	28
I.2. Reconsidering the natural component of the human-actor	34
I.2.1. Observation	40
I.2.2. Attention. Focusing attention.	43
I.2.3. Imagination. Empathy	51
I.2.4. Awakening the senses. Conscious sensory awareness. Spatial orientation. Response to stimuli. Coordination.	59
I.2.5. Spontaneity	65
I.2.6. Memory and emotional memory. Feeling, emotion, and passion.	72
I.2.7. Intuition.	81
I.2.8. Creative freedom. Creative blockages.	84
I.3. Conflict – an essential element in performance	88
I.3.1. “The mirror”	90
I.3.2. “I want – I don’t want”	92
I.3.3. “Blitz”.	95
Chapter II.
COMMITMENT TO THE DRAMATIC SITUATION	98
II.1. Theatrical parametres	101
II.1.1. Me – in the given situation	107
II.1.2. What if.. – a fundamental principle in the Art of the Actor.	108
II.2. The psychological gesture (P.G.)	110
II.3. Knowing the specific logical mechanism	113
Bibliography	121